Belton Derrel Williamson

Services for Belton Derrel (B.D.) Williamson were held Wednesday, Sept. 19 at Restland in Dallas Texas.

Mr. Williamson was born Dec. 1, 1932 to Alfred Frances (Jack) Williamson and Ida Boles Williamson, about one and one half miles northeast of downtown Frankston.

The family also lived south of Frankston in the Hollywood Community and the Sand Flat Community in later years.

He started school in 1939 while living in Sand Flat. His father purchased Grover Northcutt Blacksmith Shop in 1940 and built the shop and house on East Main Street.

This is where Belton grew up, working in the shop.

Belton Williamson

He graduated from Frankston High School in May of 1950.

Belton attended Henderson County Junior College for one semester, and then joined the United States Marine Corp in February of 1951, receiving his training in California and, later, serving in Korea during the Korean Campaign.

After receiving an honorable discharge, due to his father's illness, he returned to Frankston and worked in the blacksmith shop while his father was ill.

He attended college, at this time working toward an engineering degree at Tyler Junior College and Henderson County Junior College.

In 1953, he married Carole Dansby. They had two children, Belton Jr., born in 1954, and Teresa Lynn, born in 1959.

Belton worked in job shops, construction work, and a chemical plant in the area.

He started working on foreign oil and gas projects in 1966, working in 27 different foreign countries and visiting another 30 countries, over 20 years.

During this time, he became known by many as "B.D."

He started as a pipeline welder and was progressively promoted to supervisor, construction manager, project manager and operations manager.

Belton worked primarily in the Middle East, but also worked in the Far East, West Africa, England, Norway, Egypt and Chile in South America.

B.D. spoke four languages: English, Arabic, Spanish and Portuguese.

In 1988, he married Bernice Brehm. They lived in Frankston, on Lake Palestine for eight years, then, moved to Terrell and later to Hillsboro.

After 1987, he worked as a quality control inspector, chief inspecting senior welding inspector, performing welding inspection on pipelines and stations until 2006.

He was preceded in death by an infant brother, in 1931; his father in 1962; his first wife, Carole in 1984; his brother, Billy Jack, in 1994; mother, Ida, in 1996; and son, Belton, Jr., in 1997.

He is survived by his second wife of 19 years, Bernice; daughter, Dr. Teresa Harris and husband, Dan; granddaughter, Lauren Harris; grandson, Mason Harris; stepson, Jack Teel and wife Theresa Teel; step granddaughter Tracey Buchholz and husband Micah; step grandson, Matthew Teel; step daughter, Betty Swain (daughter of Carole Dansby Williamson) and family (Richard Sr., Ben and family, Lynn Merworth and family, Richard Jr. and family); sister-in-law, Carol Williamson and niece, Dr. Deborah Williamson.

M.C. Chancellor

Funeral services for M.C. Chancellor, 68, of Coffee City were held Tuesday, Sept. 18 in Gentry Temple COGI with Supt. R.L. Deberry and the Rev. B.R. Whitehead officiating.

Burial will be in Bethel Cemetery in Frankston under direction of Community Funeral Home of Jacksonville.

Mr. Chancellor died Sept. 11, 2007 in Tyler. He was born May 8, 1939 in Athens and attended Henderson County schools.

He was a lifelong resident of Athens, Frankston, and Coffee City. He was a member of Gentry Temple Church and was a retired truck driver.

He was preceded in death by his parents, one daughter and two brothers.

He is survived by two sons, Milton Conrad Chancellor of Tyler and Ronald Webster Chancellor of Tyler; a daughter, LaShay Ann Chancellor of Ben Wheeler; and a brother, Elgie B. Chancellor of Athens.

Pallbearers were William Jefferson, Robert Smith Jr., Robert Hatton, Rodney Hatton, William Davis and Vincent Chancellor.

Honorary pallbearers were his nephews, Harvey Davis, Morris Davis, Carlos Chancellor and Vincent Chancellor.
