Berryville Fire squad preparing for fish fry

The Berryville Volunteer Fire Department will be sponsoring its annual fish fry on Saturday, Sept. 22 at the Berryville Community Center located at 23170 CR 4117 from 3 p.m. to 7 p.m.

The cost of a meal is by donation.

There will be drawings for door prizes and perhaps a silent auction, said firefighter Janie Rife during a Berryville City Council meeting on Monday, Sept. 10.

She said that many people and businesses have already donated money and supplies for the benefit supper.

7-B Restaurant has donated five boxes of fish and a case of fries.

She said the fire department still needs coleslaw and some peanut oil for the fry.

City Manager Sharyn Harrison said she would donate $100 toward the oil.

Paul Rife said he has talked to a man who does auctions and the firefighters are considering having a silent auction along with raffles this year provided they can get some larger items donated from local area merchants.

The fish fry is a large fundraiser for the fire department.

Fire Chief Michael Her-ring has invited everyone to attend, visit with neighbors and enjoy a good meal for a good cause on Sept. 22.
